Good Morning,

I bring you warm greetings from the Board, Management and Staff of the Jamaica Social Investment Fund (JSIF).

The Poverty Reduction Programme (PRP) which is jointly funded by the Government of Jamaica and European Union, and is implemented by JSIF, continues to demonstrate its strong commitment to sustainable development through education. As the government entity with responsibility for the (GoJ's) national poverty alleviation strategy we want to offer congratulations to the EU and its members countries for 40 years of development partnership with Jamaica. The EU support to JSIF spans over 18 years, as funds from the EU were used to finance pilot activities, the results of which were used to design JSIF core activities.

More recently in 2001, a restructured intervention of support came in 2001 in the form of PRP and 14 years later we are now at PRP IV.

Today's function is at the core of the PRP which is towards the inclusive growth and equitable development; by promoting economic well-being and enhanced quality of life for residents. One of the pillars is education, and in this case these charts are designed to enhance learning of students in the 40 schools.

We see investment in children as one of best and most valuable long-term investments that can be made.

The project that we are highlighting today is one of several pursued since the start of the PRP.

To date, the programme has completed infrastructure works in the form of new buildings and the refurbishment, rehabilitation, fencing and equipping of existing school facilities for close to 40 basic, infant, primary and all-age schools island-wide.

By its interventions, the PRP has tackled the issues that affect the learning environment, attendance and safety such as overcrowding of classrooms, and the lack of space for the principal and administrative staff. The programme has also targeted the sanitation facilities and addressed issues of security by providing fencing for the safety of students and staff.

These projects demonstrate the continued commitment of government of Jamaica and EU support (go wide) PRP towards the goal of providing world class “Education and Training as outlined under outcome two of Jamaica’s Vision 2030.”

We express our appreciation to all who have participated in this latest effort. I offer my congratulations to the Principals and PRP team who have worked tirelessly to ensure that the deliverables for this project were ready.

The Poverty Reduction Programme, as implemented through JSIF, remains committed to interventions in education where resources are most needed.

I thank you.
